HDMI, ACTIVE CABLES

The Active High Speed HDMI Cable features built-in, active signal booster that provides connection distances up to an astounding 30 meters and does not require an external power adaptor. It is an ideal solution for connecting HDMI-enabled devices that are a longer distance apart, such as Blu-Ray players, game consoles, HDTVs, DVD players and more. The HDMI signal is boosted and cleaned by the active electronics in the cable's connectors enabling it to travel over longer distances without noticeable degradation.
